The Denver Press on "Falka."

"Falka" is an ideal comic opera. The construction of the libretto, the broad originality of the plot, the fund of delicate humor, make the book a notable one and the lyrics of the dainty theme make the opera one of the best comic operas of the time. It is several years since the opera was professionally given in Denver. Last evening a large and fashionable audience applauded the Dunbar Opera Co. from the opening chorus to the pleasing finale of the last act. The opera savored not at all of a first night. The audience demanded everything over again.

Miss Beatrice Goldie, in the title role, as usual made a hit. Her solos and concerted numbers were beautifully rendered, and she showed herself a prima donna of no mean ability. Winfield Blake, the basso of the company was revelation as Boletas, the brigand chief. Miss Anna Cameron made a dainty and pretty gypsy girl, and sang with a great deal of feeling. Miss Helen McLellan, as the Lady Alexina, has a magnificent stage presence, and was a great favorite with the audience. Al Leech, the comedian of the company, assumed the role of Polbach. His conception of the part was drolle and uncouth. The company in its entirety is undoubtedly one of the best on the road to-day. It abounds with pretty and shapely females. The orchestra and chorus under the direction of Milton C. Smith render the ensembles and finales very effective.

Robert Dunbar has contributed largely to the opera loving people of Denver this summer through the medium of his magnificent opera company. During the warm summer evenings it has been a pleasure to listen to the tuneful strains of the popular comic operas. The company is a thoroughly competent one and large audiences are proof of its popularity.

Only at Cleveland.

Last Tuesday's Cleveland Leader says: "Buffalo Bill's Wild West aggregation and congress of rough riders has come and gone, and 45,000 delighted Clevelanders went home happy yesterday thrilled with an experience not often met with and with a renewed reverence for American patriotism, skill and bravery. The enormous seating capacity of the amphitheater-like enclosure was not sufficient to accommodate the throngs clamoring for admission. Thousands of people were turned away by the management. As soon as the seating capacity was sold for each performance it was publicly announced by the men at the ticket office. Yet the people were not satisfied with the repeated answers to inquiries for tickets, and many refused."

Nichols Republican Primary.

A primary for Nichols precinct to elect delegates to the republican county convention, and also to nominate precinct officers, will be held in the Nichols schoolhouse (district No. 11), on Thursday evening, Sept. 12th, 1895, at 7 o'clock, western time. All republicans in the precinct are requested to attend.

F. M. BROOKS, Ch'l.

SUTHERLAND SITTINGS.

W. C. Blackmore spent Sunday at Grand Island. They do say that the Sutherland boys are getting to play ball from the word go. N. B. Whiteside and Miss Mabel Yates returned from Denver and Ft. Collins Monday. W. E. Allis has purchased a lot just west of Reed's blacksmith shop, and will erect a harness and shoe shop thereon in the near future. John Keith was at home on Tuesday and seemed considerably sunburned from his recent hunting excursion. He is getting quite a "rep" as a criminal overtaker. C. T. Beebe departed on Tuesday night for his home in Grand Island, and Sutherland is doctorless once more. Here's a chance for some one if he comes quickly. J. M. Dwyer, of Hershey, marketed oats here on Monday. He also had some fine crabapples. John Lucas and G. P. Coates, of Paxton, spent Sunday in our village. W. H. Broach, of North Platte, visited David Hunter and family last week. Elmer Coates received several sacks of crabapples from his father-in-law, at Wood River, and they are said to be extra nice. D. M. Hogsett Sundayed at North Platte with his best girl. George Evans lost a good colt last week by getting tangled in the wire at the new schoolhouse in Hunter's pasture. T. S. Clarkson is a frequent visitor in this locality of late, and is usually accompanied by one or more land-seekers. Let them come. Eli Etchison, W. M. Holtry and Alex. Neilson are all shipping cattle this week. The rain Tuesday night was the best of the season, and would have been worth thousands of $3 three weeks ago.

NICHOLS AND HERSHEY NEWS.

The Patterson & Alexander outfit of the Platte is stacking oats and cutting hay upon their farm in this locality.

Chas. McAllister recently threshed 4,000 bushels of oats from fifty acres of land. He is one of the enterprising causal farmers.

Several young people enjoyed a social dance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Terry on Friday evening last week.

Miss Nettie Cammack arrived here from Salem, Iowa, last Saturday morning and took charge of the school at this place yesterday.

Geo. E. Sullivan delivered four head of fine steers at North Platte last Saturday, which he had sold to Chas. Burke, of that city.

Archibald Anderson and Will Baly were looking after plums in the south side hills a few days ago.

Several North Platte people were viewing the beautiful scenery in the valley last Sunday.

Dr. McCabe, of the county seat, made a few professional calls in this locality the past week.

W. J. Crusen, of North Platte, accompanied by Rev. Mayne, of Central City preached to the people at this place last Sunday morning.

One of J. W. Liles' little daughters has been on the sick list the past few days.

Jonathan Welch and wife Sundayed with friends at their old home over southeast of the hub.

The new school house at this place is nearing completion. The material used in the erection of the same is the finest all through that we ever saw and contractor McMichael is doing a first class job of work upon it.

John and Louis Toillion shipped a car load of early potatoes west from this station the latter part of the week, the first of the season.

Mrs. M. C. Brown accidentally put her gold spectacles in the stove with some wrapping paper which was laying upon the table at the time and when discovered they were badly scorched and entirely ruined for future use.

Miss Edith Hutchins began school in the Platte Valley school house Monday morning for the ensuing year.

Rev. Graves, of the hub preached to the citizens of Hershey and vicinity last Sunday evening. It was an interesting discourse.

We have been told that the new school building at this place will be dedicated by a "social hop" next Friday evening.

For the faithful discharge of the duties assigned him on the farm the past season Albert Pierson was presented with a new bicycle last Saturday by his step-father Xavier Toillion.

T. D. Cotton, of the hub, was up here last Saturday looking after business connected with the hay which is being cut on his ranch and shipped west from this station.

There will be very little haying to be done in this locality after this week.

A number of neighbors and friends spent last evening very pleasantly with Mrs. A. M. Stoddard in honor of her birthday.

The "political pot" is beginning to boil in this section of the country.

We understand that the tabernacle will not be moved from North Platte to Hershey as was stated recently.

The ordinance of baptism will be administered to a number in the old canal north of Hershey next Saturday at 2 p. m. Rev. Hardaway, of North Platte will officiate.

C. L. Patterson, of the county capitol, accompanied by Mrs. C. B. George, of Illinois, were looking over the irrigated district between the rivers a few days since. Mrs. G. is interested in a large tract of land over south under the south side canal.

I. B. Bostwick was entertaining old time friends from McCook not long since.

Alonzo Decker, living on Brady island, south of Maxwell, transacted business in town Saturday and called at this office. He informed us that he was getting ready to cut a second crop of hay from land that was mowed about August 1st.

NEW * FALL * GOODS AT H. C. RENNIE'S.

NEBRASKA NOTES.

The Columbus Journal arises to prophesy an early winter and heavy falls of deep, cold snow.

It took 600,000 shingles to repair the roofs of houses in Schuyler that were damaged by hail.

Thirty-nine years ago the 26th day of August surveyors began "staking out" a town row known as the city of Fremont.

The pastor of the Presbyterian church at Kearney declines to take a vacation while "the harvest is waiting and laborers are few."

D. B. Howard, of Dodge county made a "flying leap" to get into a buggy and landed short, with a broken collar bone to the credit of his unreasonable haste.

Frank Grass of Indianola crossed the track between two freight cars. While standing on the bumpers the train moved and his left foot was severely damaged.

Friends of the administration came to the rescue of the editor of the Seward Democrat and saved the paper from falling into the large unwashed hands of the free silverites.

Peter Smith, who has irrigated his farm on Shell creek, expects to gather 100 bushels of corn to the acre. Before plowing the land in the spring he turned on the water and has flooded the land but once since.

Columbus has quite a society of Latter Day Saints, who started for Salt Lake nearly forty years ago, but stopped short of the promised land because of an inherent prejudice against too large a collection of wives.

J. C. Robinson, who is one of Waterloo's seed growers, has 2,500 acres devoted to the purpose, sublet to 210 persons. During the season the cultivation of this immense "patch" requires the services of from 400 to 500 hands.

If the corn of this country, says the Weeping Water Republican, doesn't stop growing pretty soon, and go into the business of ripening, some frost, out on an early lark, will nip it. The corn goes right on as if it had both the growth of this year and last year to make up.

A band of about seven thousand horses was bought on a ranch in Umatilla county, Washington, last week by the Portland Horse-Meat Canning Company at $3 a head. This was the price on the range. The horses will be taken to Portland as required. Three hundred were sent on as soon as the sale was concluded. The agent of the company, who is traveling through the range country, says that the hide, mane, and tail alone of each horse will bring $2.50, leaving the entire carcass almost a clear profit.

There is a singular reticence about the actual purposes for which the carcasses are to be used, and various people claiming to be connected with the concern talk variously about fertilizers, grease, canned steaks, and many other products.
